PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons
Charles H. Roadntan
Major General, USAF, MC

Report:

As my tenure as President, The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons, draws to a close, I thought perhaps this would be an excellent time for me to give each of you a summary of the activities, accomplishments, etc., of The Society during the past year. Perhaps one can think of this report as a "state of the union" message.

In November 1967, I represented The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons at the Executive Meeting of the Aerospace Medical Association in Las Vegas. The meeting was productive and I assure you that the plans being made for this year's Association meeting give all indications that the meeting will be among the best ever conducted by the Aerospace Medical Association. I personally look forward to a most informative meeting and it is my fervent hope that each of you can be in attendance.

Now to Society accomplishments during 1967-68. Looking over the history of The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons, one thing noticeably lacking was a distinctive heraldic emblem. Consequently, Colonel Joseph Quashnock was appointed to study the feasibility of developing such an emblem. Colonel Quashnock submitted a number of proposed emblems to the Board of Governors at the January 1968 meeting, and from those submitted the Board 'made its decision. The one which was selected and, I might add, approved by the Aerospace Medical Association is that which is on the cover of this newsletter. It gives our organization a symbolic identity and perhaps it will serve to create a bit more esprit than has been evidenced in the past.

Also during the past year, The Society petitioned the Air Force Historical Foundation to include on its board of directors an active duty flight surgeon. I am pleased to report that the Air Force Historical Foundation did, on the basis of our petition, nominate and elect Lt General Kenneth E. Pletcher, the Surgeon General, to serve on its Board of Directors. In subsequent correspondence, General Pletcher has advised me that he will do everything possible to assure recognition for contributions made to Air Force history by USAF flight surgeons.
And too, I am pleased to report that as a result of extensive efforts of the part of our membership committee, the total membership of our organization has grown substantially. Specific numbers are included in the Report of the Membership Committee.

Additional items of interest to the membership generally are contained in each of the reports included in this newsletter. The board of governors, officers, and committees of The Society, have worked exceedingly hard to make this a successful year for our organization. Upon reading the reports contained herein. I am sure that each of you will agree that we owe one and all a vote of thanks for their efforts in our behalf.

As each of you know, the annual luncheon meeting signals the beginning of a new administration for The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons. Each of you by this time has received a ballot and I encourage you to select those people you feel will represent you and The Society in the best possible manner. Check the ballots appropriately and return them as soon as possible. This perhaps is the only opportunity you will have to voice your individual opinion on matters regarding the activities of The Society, and consequently judgment in annotating your ballot is indicated.

In summary, I personally thank each of you for the support I have received. Upon assuming the presidency, my stated objective was to make “The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons as effective and informative as possible for its members.” This I feel we have done. To the incoming administration, we extend best wishes for a successful administration and we pledge our continued support.
MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT-ELECT

The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons

Harold F. Funsch
Brigadier General, USAF, MC

Message:

During the past year, important strides have been taken to increase the stature of The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons. I look upon these achievements with a large measure of pride in you—the members. It is you who constitute the net worth of our Society, and it is you who determine the amount of our dividends and capital gains. This analogy to the American corporate enterprise system is especially meaningful when we consider that our Society is a profit-sharing organization.

Not long ago I had occasion to summarize the importance of this profit-sharing feature to certain persons who were not yet members of our Society. Perhaps it is even more important for all of us who are active members to keep it in mind. As you may know, the Aerospace Medical Association is our parent organization. Originally, the Aerospace Medical Association was composed only of Flight Surgeons. As time went on, substantial numbers of paramedical people were permitted to join the Association, resulting in significant voting power for these disciplines. The USAF Flight Surgeons recognized this situation and banded together as a society—our Society.

The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons can and does influence policy of its parent organization. The Aerospace Medical Association, in turn, can and does influence national policy. It should be obvious to all of us, then, that our Society deserves not only willing but eager support. We must all speak as one voice if we are to reap the full profits potentially available to us.

As your President for the forthcoming 1968-1969 period, and as Chairman of the Board of Governors, I trust that I shall be able to work for you—not in lieu of you. The channels of communication are open. You have only to make your ideas known. I sincerely hope that each of you will avidly explore ways to better achieve the constitutional purposes of our Society. Our “earnings” depend on you.
REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons

Alfred R. Stumpe
Colonel, USAF, MC

Report:

Board of Governors Meetings: The Board of Governors met on 8 August 1967, at which time new business for the coming year was discussed and planned. The Board next met on 15 January 1968 to review the status of projects undertaken as a result of its first meeting. A breakfast meeting of the Board will take place on 9 May 1968 prior to the annual luncheon meeting of The Society. Officers and committee chairmen met with the Board of Governors during their meetings.

Annual Society Meeting: The annual luncheon meeting of The Society will be held on Thursday, 9 May 1968, in the Bal Masque Room of the Americana Hotel, Bal Harbour, Florida. General Howell M. Estes, Jr., Commander of Military Airlift Command, has consented to be the guest speaker for the occasion. The winner of the 1967 Malcolm C. Grow Award will be announced at this time, as well as Command Flight Surgeons of the Year. Newly elected officers and members of the Board of Governors for the year 1968-1969 will be announced and installed at the conclusion of the meeting.

New Diplomates in Aerospace Medicine: Our congratulations to the following officers who were certified in Aerospace Medicine by the American Board of Preventive Medicine in June 1967:

Report:

Criteria for Malcolm C. Grow Award: The Awards Committee reviewed existing criteria for nominations for the Malcolm C. Grow Award as well as selection methods of command surgeons in identifying their nominees. A report was presented to the Board of Governors in August 1967, following which it was determined by the Board that existing awards criteria should be retained.

1967 Nominations for Malcolm C. Grow Award: Letters were forwarded by the Surgeon General on 8 January 1968 to surgeons of major commands soliciting nominations for the Malcolm C. Grow Award. Criteria for nomination was provided, as well as a format for command submissions. The 1967 recipient of this award, as well as other Command Surgeons of the Year, will be announced at the annual meeting.

Official Recognition of Award Recipients: Effective May 1968, the Board of Governors has directed the Secretary of The Society to have official Category “A” type correspondence included in the Military Personnel Records of recipients of the Julian E. Ward Memorial Award, the Malcolm C. Grow Award, and Command Flight Surgeons of the Year awards.

Proposed Changes: On 15 January 1968, the Board of Governors considered this committee's proposed revision of the Constitution and By-Laws of The Society. Significant changes include: (1) a revised format to correspond with the format of the constitution and by-laws of the parent organization, the Aerospace Medical Association, (2) the establishment of standing committees of The Society and their responsibilities, (3) a change in the Treasurer's term of office from one to two years, (4) membership of the Nominating Committee to be elected by the Board of Governors rather than appointed by the President, (5) authority for the President to appoint replacements for either the Secretary or the Treasurer, should they not be able to fulfill the responsibilities of their respective offices, and (6) surety bond, as determined by the Board of Governors, for both the Secretary and the Treasurer of The Society. Voting on the revised Constitution and By-Laws was accomplished on the ballot sent to members on 5 February 1968. Balloting results will be announced at the annual meeting in May 1968.

Report:

Membership Drive: Letters were sent by the President of The Society to the surgeons of each major command soliciting assistance and cooperation in seeking new members for The Society. Since membership in the Aerospace Medical Association is a requirement for Society membership, this letter also served to increase membership in the parent organization. Response to this membership drive was excellent in that 89 applications had been received and processed as of 15 February 1968.

Publicity: A 750-word article describing the history and functions of The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons was prepared for publication in the March issue of the Medical Service Digest.

Report

Operational Aeromedical Problems Course: This course, conducted at the USAF School of Aerospace Medicine on 15-19 January 1968 and cosponsored by The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons, was attended by 62 medical officers. The course was conducted this year in conjunction with the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the USAF School of Aerospace Medicine.

Scientific Program at the Miami Meeting: Discussions have been held with the Chairman of the Scientific Program Committee of the Aerospace Medical Association regarding that portion of the scientific program to be sponsored by The Society at the annual meeting of the Association. The Society’s program will be on “Military Aerospace Medicine” scheduled for 1030 hours 8 May 1968.

Society Participation in the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration at the USAF School of Aerospace Medicine. In conjunction with the fiftieth anniversary celebration of USAFSAM, a Society luncheon was held on 16 January 1968. One-hundred-twenty-nine members and guests attended and were addressed by Major General James W. Humphreys, Jr., who spoke on “The Other War in Southeast Asia.” Following General Humphrey’s presentation, Major General Charles H. Roadman, on behalf of The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons, presented a scroll of recognition to the USAFSAM. Colonel George Schafer, Commander of USAFSAM, accepted the award on behalf of the USAFSAM staff.

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE FLIGHT SURGEONS

ARTICLE I: Name
The name of this organization is "The Society of United States Air Force Flight Surgeons." It is a Constituent Association of the Aerospace Medical Association.

ARTICLE II: Purpose
1. The Society shall direct its efforts toward continuing strong contributions to the mission of the Air Force, foster the mission orientation of its members, and emphasize to commanders the benefits of its professional contributions.
2. It shall foster the advancement of the art and science of aerospace medicine throughout the Air Force and will encourage the clinical, laboratory, flight line, and in-flight investigation of medical problems in Air Force flying, missile, and space operations, and will encourage the dissemination of the knowledge and experience gained.
3. It shall foster professional relations between its members and flying personnel of the Air Force, members of other military services, the civilian flying population, and the aerospace industry, and will endeavor to increase the military and civilian awareness of the high standards of practice maintained by Air Force Flight Surgeons.
4. It shall strive to interest young physicians in an Air Force career in aerospace medicine and Board certification in the specialty.
5. It shall encourage the professional growth and development of its members to maintain the highest standards of practice of aerospace medicine in the Air Force.
6. It shall recommend to the Surgeon General, United States Air Force, appropriate measures for the improvement of the career and practice of aerospace medicine in the United States Air Force.
7. It shall strengthen fraternal ties, promote social interchange among its members, and increase the solidarity of the group in its practice of the specialty and the support of the Air Force mission.

ARTICLE III: Membership
Membership shall be open to all Flight Surgeons and Flight Medical Officers in good standing who are members of the Aerospace Medical Association, and who are currently serving on active duty with the United States Air Force, or who have, in the past, served at least two years of active duty with the United States Air Force, or the United States Army Air Corps (prior to establishment of the United States Air Force) and who were separated under honorable conditions or retired. A Membership Committee appointed by the President will pass on the qualifications of each applicant for membership, and will insure that members are categorized in the appropriate classes of membership. In addition, the Board of Governors is empowered to elect certain Honorary Members as provided in the By-Laws.

*Revision proposed by the Constitution Committee as reported on pages 8.
ARTICLE IV: Officers

1. The officers of The Society shall be a President, Vice President/President-Elect, Secretary and Treasurer.

2. The officers shall take office at the conclusion of the annual meeting at which elected and shall be responsible for the affairs of The Society during the ensuing year and for the conduct of the succeeding annual meeting.

3. The term of office for the President and Vice President/President-Elect each shall be for a period of one year. The terms of office for the Secretary and Treasurer shall be for a period of two years as specified in the By-Laws.

ARTICLE V: Board of Governors

The interim governing body of The Society shall be a Board of Governors which shall consist of ten members, including the President and the three immediate past presidents. The six remaining members will be elected by The Society as specified in the By-Laws.

ARTICLE VI: Meetings

1. The Society shall meet in conjunction with the parent organization, the Aerospace Medical Association, at least once annually. In cases of national emergencies, the Board of Governors shall have authority to cancel or postpone the annual meeting. Special meetings of The Society may be called at any time by the Board of Governors. Whenever the parent organization fails to fix the time or place of an annual meeting, the Board of Governors shall decide whether or nor an annual Society meeting will be conducted and will announce its decision to the membership.

2. A quorum for any meeting as defined in this Article shall consist of at least 35 voting members.

ARTICLE VII: Funds

Funds shall consist of the annual dues and fees received by The Society and such income as may be derived from interest, bequests, donations, or other sources.

ARTICLE VIII: Amendments

1. This Constitution may be amended at any annual meeting of The Society by a two-thirds vote of accredited voting members present at such meeting, provided that the proposed amendments shall have been sent in writing to the members at least 60 days prior to the annual meeting. Amendments may be proposed by the Board of Governors on its own initiative, provided such amendments have been approved by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Governors. Amendments may also be proposed upon the petition of any 25 members and addressed to the Board of Governors. All such amendments shall be presented by the Board of Governors to the membership, with or without recommendation, for decision.

2. This Constitution may also be amended by mailed ballot. Ballots shall be mailed to all voting members at least 60 days prior to the effective date of the proposed amendment. For adopting, it is required that a two-thirds majority of responding ballots approve the amendment, provided at least 35 ballots are returned.
BY-LAWS
OF
UNITED STATES AIR FORCE FLIGHT SURGEONS

ARTICLE I: Officers

1. The officers of The Society shall be a President, Vice President/President-Elect, Secretary, and Treasurer.

2. The officers shall be elected from among the members of The Society by majority vote of the members and associate members voting by means of ballots mailed to the membership at least 30 days prior to the annual Meeting.

3. The President shall direct the activities of The Society and preside over the annual meeting. He shall appoint all committees except the Nominating Committee and shall be an ex officio member of all committees. He shall be ineligible to succeed himself for five years. His term of office shall be one year.

4. The Vice President/President-Elect shall succeed to the office and all the privileges and duties of the President, including his tenures on the Board of Governors, in the event of the permanent inability of the President to function for any reason during the President's term of office. He shall act as President during the temporary absence of the President. His term of office shall be one year, after which he shall succeed to the office of President.

5. The Secretary shall keep the minutes of the annual meeting and of all other meetings of The Society. He shall be responsible for all correspondence of The Society including notification of members of all meetings. He shall be responsible for the publication of all material which may be published by The Society. The Secretary will maintain an up-to-date roster of membership, together with addresses of members. His term of office shall be two years.

6. The Treasurer shall be responsible for the financial affairs of The Society and shall collect all monies for The Society and make all authorizations and disbursements in its behalf. He shall prepare an annual financial report to be presented at the annual meeting. The Treasurer or the Secretary may sign checks disbursements Society funds. The Treasurer's term of office shall be two years.

7. Election of the Secretary and Treasurer shall be accomplished in alternating years so as to insure continuity of the administrative and financial matters of The Society.

8. Should for any reason the Secretary and/or Treasurer not be able to fulfill the responsibilities of their respective office, the President may appoint replacements to fill the unexpired term.

*Revision proposed by the Constitution Committee as reported on page 8.
ARTICLE II: Membership shall be of four classes.

1. Members. These shall be Flight Surgeons and Senior Flight Surgeons who are diplomates of the American Board of Preventive Medicine; or Flight Surgeons and Senior Flight Surgeons who have devoted at least five years to the exclusive practice of aerospace medicine or the conduct of aerospace medical research; or Chief Flight Surgeons. They must be on active duty in the United States Air Force. They need not be currently on flying status. Members are required to be members of the parent organization, the Aerospace Medical Association.

2. Associate Members. These shall be all other individuals meeting the qualifications contained in Article III of the Constitution, who have completed the Primary Course in Aerospace Medicine, as provided by the USAF School of Aerospace Medicine. They need not currently be on active duty or flying status. Associate members may be advanced to the status of members by (1) presenting evidence of certification by the American Board of Preventive Medicine to The Society Secretary, or (2) petitioning The Society Secretary for such advancement after satisfying prerequisite for full membership. Associate members are required to be members of the parent organization, the Aerospace Medical Association. Associate members shall be afforded full voting privileges in The Society.

3. Members Emeritus. Flight Surgeons of the Regular Service or of the Reserve Components, who in all ways would otherwise qualify for membership but who have retired from active duty--either by virtue of length of service or physical disability--may be invited to join The Society as members emeritus; and those already members upon retirement of active service will automatically change to this status. Members emeritus will have the privilege of the floor at annual meetings, but will not have the privilege of voting.

4. Honorary Members. The Board of Governors, by a simple majority, may elect distinguished clinicians, scientists in fields associated with aerospace medicine, or other distinguished public or military figures who have outstandingly supported aerospace medicine to honorary membership. In such cases, all other requirements for membership are waived.

ARTICLE III: Board of Governors

1. The interim governing body of The Society shall be a Board of Governors which shall consist of ten members, including the President and three immediate past presidents. The six remaining members shall be elected by The Society. One member shall be elected each year for a four-year term and remaining members as necessary to achieve a total membership of the Board of Governors shall be elected each year for one-year terms. Each person shall have one vote. Associate members may be elected to the Board of Governors.

2. The Board of Governors shall be empowered to transact all business in the name of The Society between annual meetings or special meetings by majority vote except that it cannot increase dues or levy assessments, and a unanimous vote of a quorum of the Board of Governors shall be required for the expenditure of more than 25% of the unobligated money in The Society’s Treasury.

3. One-half of the members assigned within the Continental United States shall compose a quorum for meetings of the Board of Governors.

4. The Board of Governors shall meet at least once a year. It shall make recommendations to The Society for action and it shall serve as a liaison body between the membership and the Office of the Surgeon General, USAF. This shall imply no official relationship between The Society and the Surgeon General.

5. Special meetings of the Board of Governors may be called by the President of The Society, who will also function as Chairman of the Board of Governors, or by written request of four or more members of the Board.

6. In the event of inability of both the President and Vice President/President-Elect to function, the ranking Governor present shall be designated Chairman pro tempore.

7. The junior members of the Board of Governors present shall be the recorder and shall furnish the Secretary of The Society with a transcript of the Board proceedings if the Secretary is not in attendance.

8. In the event of a tie vote among the members of the Board, the Chairman will cast the deciding vote.

9. The Surgeon General, USAF, and the active duty Major Generals of the USAF Medical Service who are members of The Society of USAF Flight Surgeons will constitute a non-voting advisor board known as the Honorary Board of Governors.

10. Members emeritus who hold unexpired office on the Board of Governors at time of retirement shall retain that office for their elected term.
ARTICLE IV: Nominations and Elections

1. Nominating Committee. The Nominating Committee shall consist of five members and shall be elected by the Board of Governors at the first special meeting after the annual meeting. This Committee shall serve from the time of its election until the next annual meeting of The Society. Members of the Nominating Committee are not barred from becoming nominees for office nor from succeeding themselves on the Committee. This Committee shall select the nominees for all elected offices of The Society and will indicate the offices for which nominated. The proposed ballot shall then be sent to the Secretary of The Society not later than three months preceding the annual meeting for dissemination to the voting membership. The Secretary shall insure that ballots are mailed to voting members so as to reach addressees not later than one month prior to the annual meeting. Space shall be provided on the ballots for write-in nominations. Ballots shall be returned to the Secretary by return mail and subsequently relinquished by him to the Chairman of the Nominating Committee at the earliest possible date prior to the annual meeting.

2. The Nominating Committee shall count the ballots and furnish the results to the Chairman of the Board of Governors prior to the annual business meeting. Results of the election will be announced at the business meeting. Ties will be resolved by a simple majority vote of the voting members present at the meeting.

ARTICLE V: Committees

1. Standing Committees.

   a. In addition to the Nominating Committee as provided in Article IV, paragraph 1 of these By-Laws, the Standing Committees shall be as indicated below. Each committee shall consist of five members.

   (1) Constitution and By-Laws Committee. This Committee shall be a fact-finding committee on matters pertaining to the Constitution and By-Laws. The Committee shall study proposed amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws and make its recommendations to The Society through the Board of Governors.

   (2) Membership Committee. This Committee shall be responsible for initiating programs and activities designed to increase membership in The Society. This Committee shall act in an advisory capacity to the Board of Governors in matters relating to the establishment of eligibility requirements for all classes of membership. This Committee will review all applications for membership in The Society, secure all available information concerning such applicants, and submit its recommendations to the President for appropriate action.

(3) Awards Committee. The Awards Committee shall obtain and review all nominations for whatever awards or honorary citations are presented by The Society, and submit its recommendations to the President.

(4) Programs Committee. This Committee will devote itself to the solution of the problems of The Society’s growth through adequate foresight and planning. It shall anticipate problems and situations relative to all Society activities and make appropriate recommendations to the Board of Governors. In addition, this Committee shall be responsible to the Secretary for all arrangements incident to the annual meeting to include scheduling, agenda content, and recommendation for guest speakers.

b. The President shall appoint all members of Standing Committees except the Nominating Committee (Article IV, paragraph 1) and designate one member as Chairman. Two-fifths of the membership of each committee except the Nominating Committee shall be rotated each year.

2. Special Committees.

The President may appoint special committees as he may deem necessary with such membership as he may consider appropriate. Special committees shall be appointed only for the duration of the appointing President’s tenure of office but may be continued at the option of the succeeding President.

ARTICLE VI: Dues

1. Initiation fees, dues, and special assessments may be levied by simple majority vote of a quorum of the members and associate members present at an annual meeting. Members emeritus and honorary members are excused from paying dues.

2. Dues are due and payable annually on 1 January. Members who fall two years arrear in the payment of dues will be notified of their delinquency in writing by the Treasurer; and thereafter shall be allowed 60 days to make payment. Failure to do so in the time allotted will result in suspension from The Society.

3. Members who are suspended from The Society for non-payment of dues may be reinstated provided back dues are paid, plus annual dues for one year in advance. This reinstatement shall be subject to the approval of the Membership Committee.
ARTICLE VII: Finances

1. The fiscal year shall begin on 1 January and shall end on 31 December each year.

2. The Secretary and Treasurer of The Society shall furnish surety bond in such amounts as the Board of Governors shall determine, the cost to be paid by The Society. Checks may be signed only by the Secretary or the Treasurer.

3. The Treasurer shall maintain accounts in the name of The Society at the National Bank of Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas. Two accounts shall be maintained, a checking account and a savings account. Normally, no more than $500.00 shall be kept in the checking account with the remainder of the funds deposited as savings.

4. The Treasurer's report shall be audited and approved by the Board of Governors prior to the annual meeting.

ARTICLE VIII: Conduct of Meetings

In all matters not covered by the Constitution or By-Laws, the provisions of Robert's Rules of Order shall apply.

ARTICLE IX: Amendments

Any member may propose amendments to the By-Laws not in conflict with the Constitution. Upon simple majority vote by a quorum of the members and associate members present at an annual or special meeting, they will become binding on the membership.
