Award Criteria - The intent of this award is to recognize outstanding safety achievements of operational flight surgeons assigned to a medical group or squadron medical element. Nominees must have made significant contributions to safety over the preceding calendar year. Nominee contributions to all areas of safety are encouraged and should not be restricted to aviation safety. Contributions may include, but are not limited to: identification, investigation and mediation of hazards; creation of effective prevention programs; insightful mishap investigation; and innovative safety program management. Contributions may also include activities in support of joint/coalition/federal flying operations.

Nomination narrative - Please submit for accomplishments in the past calendar year, limited to one page. One-page letters of endorsement are required from the MTF/CC or equivalent and flying Wing Chief of Safety, an additional one-page letter of endorsement may also be submitted. All submissions must be electronic, Times New Roman, 12 font.
